

ISO 27001: Safeguarding your information assets

In this technology-driven world, it is critical to protect both your customer's and your own data.

Implementing an information security management system (ISMS) and gaining ISO 27001 certification will ensure you have the processes and controls in place to protect your information assets and manage the threats posed to your organisation from malicious attacks.

What is ISO 27001?

ISO 27001 provides a best practice framework to identify, analyse and then implement controls to manage and mitigate risks – reducing the likelihood of an information security breach.

Benefits of ISO 27001 certification

Minimising risk

ISO 27001 certification from LRQA ensures controls are in place to minimise the risk of an information security breach and avoid any system weaknesses being exploited.

Best practice

By gaining ISO 27001 certification, your customers can be confident that you have addressed all security risks relating to IT, people, physical and business continuity requirements.

Legal and regulatory compliance

By gaining ISO 27001 certification, your customers can be confident that you have addressed all security risks relating to IT, people, physical and business continuity requirements.

Competitive edge

Certification to ISO 27001 with LRQA provides a public and independent statement of your capability – helping you to attract new business.

Reduced costs

The methodical risk assessment approach outlined in ISO 27001 ensures resources are applied effectively to reduce overall risk and cut costs.

Gap analysis

This assessor-delivered activity enables you to focus on critical, high risk or weak areas of your system prior to your formal assessment visit. Wherever you are in the certification process – the scope can be defined by you.

Certification

This is typically a two-stage process consisting of a system appraisal and an initial assessment, the duration of which is dependent on the size and nature of your organisation.

Surveillance

Once we've approved your ISMS, we carry out regular surveillance visits to ensure the ongoing effectiveness of your system.

This gives you, and your top management, the assurance that your ISMS is on track and continually improving.

Integrated management system assessment

If you're looking to combine your organisation's ISMS with an existing management system (such as quality) you could benefit from a co-ordinated assessment and surveillance programme. This could result in an overall reduction in audit time and costs due to the common content of many ISO management systems standards.
