The screenshot shows the EiQ Learn platform interface. At the top, there's a search bar and navigation options. The main content area features a video player with a question: "Which of the following fees may be paid by the worker for their job?". Below the question are five options: "Labor agent's service fee for placement", "Medical checkup fee", "VISA preparation fee", "Replacement passport due to loss", and "In-bound flight ticket". To the right of the video player is a sidebar with course information, including "Working with Migrant Workers", "1 / 2 modules completed", and buttons for "Start learning now" and "Resume where you left off". Below the video player is a "Course description" section and "Additional references".
