ISO 37001 Certification

What is ISO 37001?

ISO 37001 is the international management system standard for anti-bribery. By achieving certification to this international standard, your organisation will ensure it has implemented the controls to prevent, detect and address bribery.

The standard has been designed using globally recognised best practices that are flexible and adaptable according to the size and nature of your organisation and the level of bribery risk you face.

ISO 37001 can be used by small, medium and large organisations in the public, private and voluntary sectors.

Over 80 experts, from 28 participating countries helped to develop this standard, so you can be confident that experience and good practice from around the world has contributed to ensuring the requirements provide real benefits to any organisation.

Benefits of ISO 37001

Minimise risk

ISO 37001 certification will help your organisation to implement or enhance existing controls that combat bribery and reduce bribery risks.

Stakeholder confidence

By demonstrating compliance to ISO 37001 standard, your stakeholders can feel confident that your organisation has taken reasonable steps to prevent bribery.

The UK Bribery Act 2010

ISO 37001 certification ensures your organisation complies with the Bribery Act, preventing prosecution and protecting your brand and reputation.
